What we doHow does Ameriprise protect my personal information?

To protect your personal information from unauthorized access and use, we use security measures that comply with federal law. These measures include computer safeguards and secured files and buildings.

For more information on how we protect your personal information go to ameriprise.com/privacy.

How does Ameriprise collect my personal information?

We collect your personal information, for example, when you

- Open an account or make deposits to or withdrawals from your account
- Apply for insurance or enter into an investment advisory contract
- Tell us about your investment or retirement portfolio

We also collect your personal information from others, such as credit bureaus, affiliates, or other companies.

Why can't I limit all sharing?

Federal law gives you the right to limit only

- Sharing for affiliates' everyday business purposes – information about your creditworthiness
- Affiliates from using your information to market to you
- Sharing for nonaffiliates to market to you

State laws and individual companies may give you additional rights to limit sharing. See below for more on your rights under state law.

What happens when I limit sharing for an account, I hold jointly with someone else?

Your choices will apply to you alone unless you tell us otherwise.

DefinitionsAffiliates

Companies related by common ownership or control. They can be financial and nonfinancial companies.

- Our affiliates include companies with an Ameriprise, RiverSource, Columbia Threadneedle or American Enterprise name; financial companies such as banks, broker-dealers, asset managers, and insurance companies.

Nonaffiliates

Companies not related by common ownership or control. They can be financial and nonfinancial companies.

- Ameriprise does not share with nonaffiliates, so they can market to you.

Joint marketing

A formal agreement between nonaffiliated financial companies that together market financial products or services to you.

- Our joint marketing partners include federal and state regulated mortgage lenders, banks and credit unions.

Other important information

If any of your accounts with us have a Vermont mailing address, we will automatically treat those accounts as if you elected not to share information about your creditworthiness and not to receive marketing from our affiliates; we will also not obtain consumer credit reports about you without your consent. If any of your accounts with us have a California, North Dakota or Vermont mailing address, we will not include those accounts in any joint marketing activities with nonaffiliated financial companies.

As required by federal law, RiverSource Life Insurance Company and RiverSource Life Insurance Company of New York do not use Protected Health Information of its Long Term Care (LTC) policy holders for marketing purposes unless the LTC policy holder authorizes such use.

If your financial advisor's affiliation with Ameriprise ends and your financial advisor joins a nonaffiliated securities broker-dealer or registered investment advisor, they may be permitted to use limited information to contact you. The information they may use is limited to your name, address, email address, phone number and account title.

Definitions. For purposes of this CPRA Privacy Notice addendum, the terms below have the following meaning:

Verified Request (or Verifiable Request) means a request that is made by a California resident on their own behalf, or on behalf of a California resident from whom they have received authorization, and that Ameriprise can verify pursuant to its standard verification procedures. For your protection, we request and verify specific pieces of information about you prior to sharing any data with you.

Sensitive Personal Information (sensitive personal data) means personal information that reveals a consumers social security, driver's license, state ID card, or passport number; account login, financial account, debit card or credit card number combined with any security or access code, password or credentials allowing access to an account; precise geolocation; racial or ethnic origin, religious or philosophical beliefs or union membership; contents of mail, email, and text messages; genetic data, including biometric information for identification purposes; and health, sex life or sexual orientation.

Sensitive personal information collected must not be incompatible with the disclosed purpose of which the sensitive personal information was collected. We do not infer characteristics from sensitive personal data.

Use of personal information. The use of personal information for the business's or a service provider's service to your accounts and applications for products and services. Your financial information will be used by the company to provide you better service, address your questions and needs, and for uses you specifically request us to perform, such as applications for products.

Contact details will be used to contact you about your applications, accounts, or provision of services. Further, information on your financial history and applications will be processed, without automated means, for the business purpose of assessing your suitability for the products and financial needs. Finally, there is a business purpose to use your personal information, in some cases, to comply with regulations binding on our company and practices.

Data collected from the use of our website, such as IP address, location, and browsing history, will be used to improve your experience and comply with your requests through our website. View our website Cookie Notice for more details.

With whom will we share your personal information? We may share your information with other companies within the Ameriprise group of companies and affiliates. We may also share your information with service providers that Ameriprise employs to service the account, perform a necessary function to fulfill your requests, or otherwise assist in our services to you. The sharing of your data in this way is for the business purpose of servicing your account.

We also share data with service providers to assist the firm with data analytics to understand the value to our customer base of our products and services. Further, we may share your data with service providers to assist with our marketing campaigns and to provide you with our products that you may wish to receive. As mentioned above, we also share your website activity with marketing providers to market products to you on other websites—cross-contextual behavioral advertising. You have a right to request we not share your data for cross-contextual behavioral advertising. To do so, click the "Do not sell or share my personal data" link in the footer of the website. On the pop-up preferences screen, click the slider to opt-out of sharing for cross-contextual behavioral advertising. We can also accept and acknowledge a global signal from your browser or device.

If you wish to further limit your receipt of any marketing email communications, you can do so through two means, depending on your relationship: if you are a registered online user, the communications center on ameriprise.com allows you to limit email marketing or, anyone can request to opt-out of marketing through a link provided in our Cookie Notice. Finally, we may also share your data with third parties if needed and appropriate to comply with our legal obligations, defend our legal rights, protect your vital interests in the event of an emergency, or if we have otherwise obtained your consent.

Reasonable Security Procedures and Practices.

We will maintain the data in a manner commensurate with the data held with regard to the sensitivity. Access to the data will be reserved for those with a business need for the information. The data will be kept in an encrypted manner and any transfer or disclosure will be done in a secure manner.

Retention Criteria.

For brokerage and wealth management clients, any data collected will be held for 6 years after you are no longer an active client. For bank clients, any data collected will be held for 5 years after you are no longer an active client. For prospective clients, any data collected will be held indefinitely. For insurance and annuities clients, any data collected will be held indefinitely.

Exceptions to Our Obligation to Provide or Delete Information. You should be aware that Ameriprise's obligations to you are subject to certain important exemptions that will limit the things we are required to provide to or do for you under this law. Specifically, the CPRA does not apply to personal information collected pursuant to Gramm-Leach-Bliley Act (GLBA), such as transaction, experience and health information that falls within the definitions of Personal Health Information (PHI) under the Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act (otherwise known as HIPAA). This means that even if you submit a Verifiable Request, Ameriprise is not required to provide information to you or delete your information if your information is required by us to provide any of the financial products and services we provide to consumers or clients. This will likely limit the amount of information you receive in response to a Verifiable Request under the CPRA. In addition, Ameriprise is not obligated to delete information in response to a Verifiable Request if other regulations require us to maintain these records for a period of time. In many instances that will be the case.

Submission of a Verifiable Request. You may submit a Verifiable Request by calling 1.800.862.7919 and providing all of the information below. You may also send your Verifiable Request by electronic mail to Privacy Consumer Inquiry. Each Verifiable Request, no matter how submitted, must include all of the following information:

- First and Last Name
- Mailing address (street, city, state, zip code)
- Email address
- Phone number
- Client or Account ID (optional if an Ameriprise client)

Upon receipt of your request, Ameriprise must ensure it is a Verifiable Request. Ameriprise will acknowledge our receipt of your request within ten business (10) days, and we have forty-five (45) days to respond to you or request that you confirm your request to correct or delete information we hold. If reasonably necessary to respond to your Verifiable Request, Ameriprise may extend the deadline for our response to you by an additional forty-five (45) days, and if we choose to do so, we will notify you.
